Program Description

Located at the Milwaukee County Courthouse, our restraining order clinic serves as the cornerstone program of our agency and fulfills a crucial, unique need in our community. Advocates at the courthouse explain the process of obtaining a legal injunction to protect clients from domestic violence, child abuse, or harassment. They also help victims complete and file paperwork, accompany them to court, and refer them to shelter, counseling, or other required services. In 2004, TFFV advocates provided restraining order assistance to more than 4,900 victims from the metropolitan Milwaukee area. TFFV advocates have assisted more than 90,000 victims of domestic abuse, harassment, child abuse and stalking since the program began in 1986.
